Data Services

Access the Market. Expand Your Reach.

For decades, Quadrant has maintained one of the nation's largest insurance rating databases, providing trusted rate intelligence to carriers, publishers, and consumer-facing platforms. Data Services™ allows insurance carriers to participate directly in Quadrant's specialized enterprise and publisher network through ongoing rate programming, maintenance, validation, and distribution services.

By integrating carrier rates into Quadrant's ecosystem, organizations gain greater visibility, broader market exposure, and access to premium digital publishing channels while ensuring their pricing remains accurately represented across the marketplace.

Why Data Services Matters

The insurance marketplace has become increasingly dependent on accurate, updated pricing information. Consumers, publishers, and comparison platforms expect current rates, while carriers need confidence that their products are represented correctly.

Data Services provides a fully managed solution that handles rate programming, ongoing maintenance, validation, and distribution, allowing carriers to focus on underwriting and growth while Quadrant manages the operational complexity of keeping rate data current and accessible.
